

A Collection of 12 Essays by Margaret E. Stephenson

Margaret Elizabeth Stephenson is widely known as one of the most highly regarded authorities on Montessori education. She began her training during the Second World War with Mother Isabel Eugenie and continued in a course conducted by Dr. Maria Montessori following her return to England in 1946. After completing her training in Mario Montessori's elementary program, she became a trainer of teachers in London until 1959. In 1960, by commission of the Montessori family, Miss Stephenson began training Montessori teachers in the United States.

To honor her for the many years she spent training teachers and trainers, AMI/USA has published a limited edition, beautifully boxed collection of twelve of Miss Stephenson's finest and most informative lectures. In her introduction, Karin Salzmann writes:

She is a brilliant lecturer and possesses an extraordinary knowledge of Dr. Montessori's teachings. ... Over and over, she reminded participants of the ways in which theory supports practice and practice represents theory, the foundations of Montessori education.

AMI/USA is continuing the legacy begun by Miss Stephenson by contributing one half of the proceeds from each sale to the MES 2000 Fund. Established in Miss Stephenson's name, the fund provides financial aid for AMI Montessori teacher trainees in the United States.
